Sunday, March 27, 2014 My First Post! Introducing myself! Okay, so I'm new to blogging. I have been reading blog posts and watching Youtube videos for hours and here I am trying to write something new. So here it goes! I'm Genna, otherwise known as Ginger. I am a college student with a wicked addiction to Thai food and a dramatic wardrobe. I have a beautiful little boy who will be 2 years old in April and I love singing in front of my piano. My husband and I met in the summer of 2002 and I live in Boston, Massachusetts. We were not quite sure if we were ready to meet each other, but we knew that God had brought us together. He always puts us in places that are perfect to help us grow in our walk with Him. He is our best friend and the source of my sanity. Thank you all so much for following our little blog. It was all new for me too, and it's so much fun to see all your lives going on from your pictures!

Postconvulsive seizures in rats with genetically induced absence epilepsy. The factors leading to the development of generalized convulsive seizure activity in genetically selected WAG/Rij rats were investigated. In this model of genetic absence epilepsy, convulsive seizures are not the consequence of status epilepticus but are rather the result of intermittent status epilepticus, because they occur in a dose-dependent manner, in a genetically predisposed animal strain. To characterize the nature of the convulsive seizures, electrocorticographic (ECoG) activity was recorded for 60 min in 6 WAG/Rij, 6 Wistar, and 7 Sprague-Dawley rats. ECoG recordings revealed that the rats
