(Game reviews are based on the initial release version unless noted.) Grand Kingdom EsportsGW - Grand Kingdom's initial release wasn't as polished as I was hoping. The story flow is more like a blog than an actual game, and the art and the battles have a rushed feel to them. Nonetheless, the game is still enjoyable. It's the RPG genre I'd been looking for - no random battles or monster killing. You can see the vast world, create your own character, obtain equipment, chat with other players, trade items, and fight others. It's exactly what I was looking for! Dark and Light RPG Game Corner - The good thing about Grand Kingdom is you can create your own avatar, and then change it as you play. You don't have to be limited to one avatar, and can have a few different ones in your storage. You can open your custom folder to see them all, and switch between them. BattleGround World RPG Game Corner - I love how the battles are set up here. They begin when the combat starts, and you're able to see who you're fighting. It's easy to understand because it's divided into different phases, each with its own different type of attack. League of Light RPG Game Corner - This is a good game. It's polished, the graphics are really nice, the characters are well voiced, and there's a good variety of classes to be played through. Grand Kingdom and League of Light are only available for PC. Dark and Light will be released on Mac and Linux sometime. RPG Game Corner - I am only able to play as Lenhart for this review. Nonetheless, it was still an enjoyable experience! Mysterious Dungeon: Blue Blade Mysterious Dungeon: Blue Blade (JDQ) RPG Game Corner - The most unique aspect of the game was the ability to see your enemies. You're able to view their skills and stats, and it's very easy to understand what's going on. Weapon of Arise RPG Game Corner - The game has great looks and art. The artwork is well done, and it's very nice to look at. The game is well balanced, which is something I think was lacking in many other JRPGs. Hand bff6bb2d33

Your Servant can only wear one headpiece. * Interact with the world In addition to interacting with monsters, you can use your Servant to perform a variety of actions in battle. The key to playing the game is interacting with your Servant. You can use the item menus (the bottom right menu)

A year has since passed, and peace has been maintained by the United Nations back under the rule of the centaur kingdom known as the Union. □□ The world peace that has been secured has seen children no longer die during childbirth, and people no longer suffer from famine in their homeland. Life has become stable and calm, and people have begun to live in harmony with the world. □□ Things are going well for the country, but humanity's dark passions are gradually starting to appear in the middle- and upper-class segment of society. Each year more and more persons of small stature grow to be the target of hatred and abuse. □□ Similarly, the ferocious enjoyment of augmentation is spreading, with the result that the bounds between human and machine have become clearly distinguished. □□ Meanwhile, from within the newly created Hell Gate, a group led by a magus of shallowness, Craft, and a high-ranking augur, Arm, with the end of the world as a target, are agitating society. Block the uncontrollable and unstoppable technologies of the world, and people will be restored to paradise." □□ Such a person is Craft!
